

International Society for Augmentative & Alternative Communication
www.isaac-online.org

Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC)

Awareness Month October 2009

Many Methods, One Goal: To Communicate

Come celebrate ISAAC's International AAC* Month

- There are many methods to help people with little or no effective speech to communicate, gain literacy, and live productive lives.
- All over the globe and in our community, events will demonstrate some of those methods and share the joy that comes from communication.
- Here is what we are planning in our community. You are invited!

How are YOU going to contribute?

Delete this text and use this space to promote your events.

Please share your community event plans on the website and Facebook.

Email your personalized flyer to: info@aacawareness.org

Effective communication for all . . . in our lifetime.

Come learn about the possibilities!

*AAC means Augmentative & Alternative Communication – other ways to speak and write for people with speech impairments or disabilities – like electronic talking aids, computers, boards and books with pictures, words and letters, Talking Mats, Communication Passports, eye-gaze, partner-assisted scanning, facilitated communication, gesture and sign language.

